EXPLANATION

Professor Lundt received a Bachelor of Arts in English from Brigham Young University, a Master of Arts degree in Social Science from the College of Notre Dame in Belmont, California, and a Doctor of Education degree in Educational Administration from The University of Montana.

Professor Lundt is dedicated, conscientious, diligent, and ever present for our students, faculty, staff, and the community. As professor, scholar, leader, and mentor in the Department of Educational Leadership, he has advised graduate students, chaired countless doctoral dissertation committees, and through his leadership has raised the level of departmental esteem to new heights. John Lundt has developed and led doctoral cohorts beginning in 1996 and concluding with the recently approved first International Doctoral Cohort in Educational Leadership. Dr. Lundt has represented at the local, state, national and international level. He exhibits an excellent teaching record and has inspired students to challenge the status quo. He has published books and an impressive number of articles in the field of education and specifically educational futures. John's scholarly activities have stimulated lively educational discussions across the county and abroad. His professional service accomplishments include development and coordination of the first Montana on-line academy for K-12 education. Professor Lundt's honors include Montana History Teacher of the Year, Distinguished Contribution to Saudi Arabian Education and visiting Scholar at Charles University in the Czech Republic. In Addition, Dr. Lundt has been a full professor for the past 13 years and his contributions have been recognized as meritorious on numerous occasions throughout his distinguished career at The University of Montana.

For the accomplishments cited above and more, the Department of Educational Leadership is honored to recommend, by unanimous vote, Professor John C. Lundt for Emeritus status.
