R.Ford - UM - March 2005

The Member View -- more detail: Suppose each Member also has a laptop computer.

The Member would have

- A. a flat panel display "synchronized" to display the current item that the audience sees -- the Member would not have to do anything to "drive" this display
- B. a "private" laptop that he/she could use to navigate and display whatever is of interest, and so that only he/she sees that display
